

State Loses In Effort To Bar "Medical Defense" For Slayers

Dry Agents Slain From Ambush On Swamp Trail

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Hundreds of armed men gathered early today in the swamps near Phoenix, 15 miles from here to hunt for the slayers of Sam W. Lilly, deputy United States marshal and Leon George, city prohibition officer and special deputy marshal, who were shot to death last night from ambush.

The scene of the killing was an obscure trail through a swamp near Phoenix over which Lilly and George were traveling in the former's automobile. The two who had been unusually active lately in raiding moonshine plants in the vicinity, had left Wilmington in the afternoon to serve papers in a prohibition case and apparently had passed on their way to seize a small copper still which was found in the car with their bodies.

Powder burns on George's face disclosed the nearness of the assassins when they fired at the deputies. Twenty-five buckshot wounds were found in George's body and at least 20 in that of Lilly. Their weapons had not been used.

A posse left Wilmington and nearby towns for the scene as soon as news of the killing was received. Their efforts to run down the slayers immediately, however, were handicapped by the darkness and the organized hunt was delayed until dawn.

Illinois Democrats Optimistic Over Outlook

CHICAGO, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Democratic party managers in Illinois expressed themselves today as extremely gratified by the outlook for the fall campaign. They anticipated a larger Democratic vote than ever has been recorded in Illinois in a presidential year. Some predict the state will go into the Davis column in November.

George F. Brennan, chairman of the Illinois Jeffersonians, has devoted virtually all his attention to the state campaign since the return from the New York convention. He is quoted by his closest advisers as having taken the position that the most rigorous Democratic campaign Illinois ever has known will be successful in eclipsing both the Republican and LaFollette endeavors.

British Blame Chicago "Bull Cliques" For High Wheat

(BY PERCY SARL)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1924, United Press)

LONDON, July 30.—(By the United Press)—Sensational rises in the wheat market in the United States have been followed by equal increases in the price of wheat and flour in England. Flour in English markets has jumped 10 shillings a sack since July 1 and a total of 17 shillings since May, causing apprehension throughout the country.

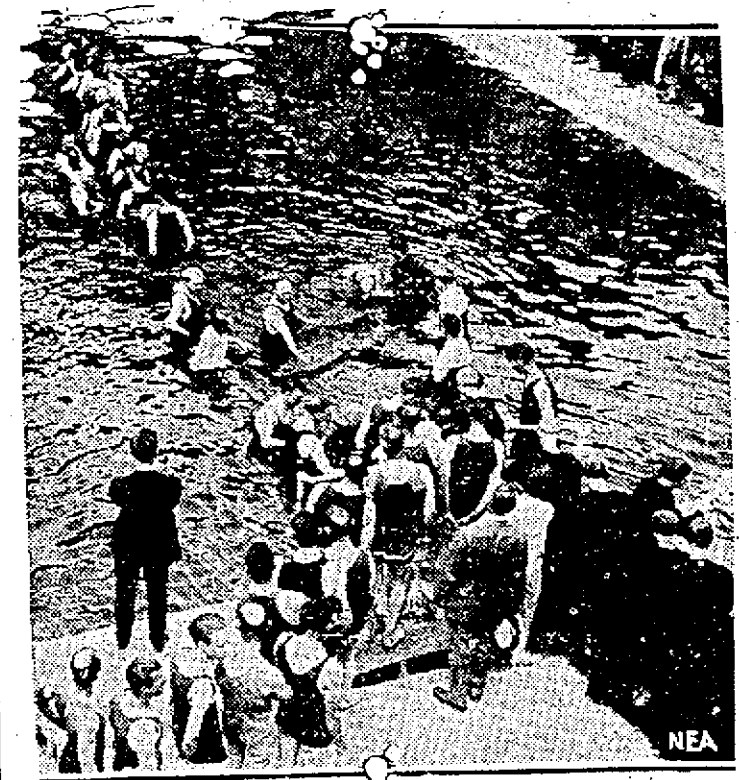

The standard four pound British loaf, already increased from the old eight penny price will jump to 10 pence next Monday.

To the English farmer wheat growing is profitable for the first time since the war, but to the great majority of the population—the wage earners—the high price of bread means only added strain on the family budget.

Speculative advances in flour prices during the present month have caused consumers to start an agitation for resumption of the war time practice of government wheat buying, but president of the Board of Trade Sidney Webb, (a post equivalent to the American secretary of commerce) flatly denied a rumor that the government is planning to resume such buying.

Klan And Mob Stage Bloody All-Night Battle; Police Halt Rioting

LANCASTER, MASS., July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—After a night of disorders and clashes in which scores were injured, a crowd of men who had engaged in a night of hostilities with members and spectators at a Ku Klux Klan meeting in a field near here, were dispersed with the arrival of additional state patrolmen today. Between 500 and 800 men had engaged in the fighting during the night.

The list of injured today, following the night's fighting, included five men whose injuries were so serious as to require treatment at hospitals. One was a policeman who was struck on the head by a stone.

One of the injured was in a hospital suffering from a broken back and three others were suffering from wounds believed to have been caused by a shot gun loaded with rock salt.

Many others are known to have been hurt by clubs, flying stones and other missiles. Two automobiles were partly demolished by showers of stones and missiles.

Roy Grover, of Clinton, a spectator at the Klan meeting, is in the hospital in Clinton with a broken back. His condition is serious.

Paul Kittredge, of Clinton, said to be a half back on the Holy Cross football team, another injured, is suffering from 40 wounds believed to have been caused by rock salt discharged from a gun. He is expected to recover.

New York State To Be Political Battlefield

BY ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent
Copyright 1924

NEW YORK, July 30.—New York state is to be perhaps the greatest battle ground of the coming presidential campaign. With John W. Davis as their standard bearer the Democrats realize their best chance of winning the election lies in winning some of the northern states east of the Mississippi river to add to the electoral votes of the solid South. The general feeling here at the moment is that the Democratic managers will permit the Republican and the La Follette followers to fight it out in a great many of the Western commonwealths. Of course the Democrats will not neglect these Western states, Mr. Davis undoubtedly will visit them. But the battle will be concentrated in the East and the bulk of the campaigning will be done here.

The best chance the Democrats have to carry New York state is to

Huntington Boy Springs Something New To Evade Arrest--But Is Shot

HILLICOTHE, O., July 30.—(By the United Press)—Police announced today that they had discovered something new on the way of means to evade arrest.

The new "method" was found in the car of Walter Ross, 19, Huntington, W. Va., who was shot and probably fatally wounded by police last Saturday night when he sought to evade arrest.

It consists of hooking a battery to the metal parts of the car through a coil operated by the driver which has sufficient power to knock down any one touching the car when the button is pushed.

Ross is wanted for an alleged violation of the dry laws, federal officers say.

Long, Bitter Argument Over Issue of "State of Mind" or "Insanity" of Defendants

CHICAGO, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The big legal fight by attorneys for Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed murderers of Robert Franks, to save them from the gallows, broke out in Judge John R. Caverly's court today.

State Completes Testimony

CRIMINAL COURTROOM, CHICAGO, July 30.—(By the United Press)—The state today rested its "perfect hanging case" against Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb at the judicial hearing for the murder of Robert Franks.

Frank Shooter, Court Stenographer,

was the last of the state's witnesses to complete the chain of evidence constructed by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe. He was questioned, but a moment, merely testifying that he had taken down in shorthand Loeb's confession.

Clarence Darrow, chief attorney for the defense, is said to be engineering another surprise for the state. Reports are that he expects the case of the boys' sanity to go before a jury after all. Crowe announced that if the defense attorneys testified the boys are insane, or even partially so, he will demand a jury hearing on their sanity. Darrow is said to have taken that into consideration; in fact, to have planned that very thing.

Should Chief Justice John H. Cuyler

decide to place the matter of sanity before a jury, a change of venue will be demanded and, with it, a long continuance.

The defense is credited with planning to keep the possible sanity hearing from being held for several months, in order to give time for public opinion to quiet down. Darrow is understood to feel that public opinion is hostile at this time.

Crowe, in the meantime, has had his allegiance to the state. He has prepared a report showing the boys are sane. Crowe said that if the defense shows insanity, the plea of guilty would be thrown out because an insane person cannot plead guilty to a crime.

The contention of the defense right along has been that the boys were irresponsible and not insane in the full medical and legal meaning of the term.

Crowe Enters Sirens Objection

The defense put Dr. William A. White, Washington, on the stand, but Crowe objected to White's testimony, saying it was incompetent.

Crowe objected on the ground that the court had no right to consider the sanity of the defendants, after they had pleaded guilty.

Judge Caverly overruled Crowe,

but the state's attorney continued a vigorous argument against the admissibility of the defense's testimony. Crowe said the defense could not offer testimony showing insanity after having pleaded guilty. If the boys are insane, Crowe said he would demand that the question of sanity be brought before a jury.

If, Your Honor, at the conclusion

of testimony you should sentence these boys to hang, in my judgment, the sentence would not be worth the paper it is written on," Crowe stated.

"If the defense appealed to the supreme court the supreme court would set your sentence aside.

The state would have no power to appeal what the defendant would have every chance of appeal the sentence.

"What is the defendant in this case

trying to do?" Crowe shouted. "Are they trying to enter pleas of guilty, admitting that they murdered a child, and then attempting to enter a defense?"

"Would Your Honor allow these boys to plea guilty and then allow attorneys to try to prove that they were in California when the murder was committed?"

Long, Bitter Argument Over Issue of "State of Mind" or "Insanity" of Defendants

CHICAGO, July 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The big legal fight by attorneys for Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed murderers of Robert Franks, to save them from the gallows, broke out in Judge John R. Caverly's court today.

The engagement opened when Robert

E. Crowe, state's attorney, after resting his own case, sought to shut off all testimony by defense attorneys relating to the mental responsibility of the youthful defendants.

Crowe maintained that the plea of guilty prevented the defense from showing any state of mind as a mitigation of punishment and with his assistants continued the argument throughout the morning session even though Judge Caverly said he would overrule the objection.

The defense told the judge that they had a right to show that mentality had figured in the circumstances of the crime and the court indicated that he agreed with them.

The judge said, however, no opportunity remained for an offer of insanity as a legal defense, that he would not permit such testimony to be introduced.

When the dispute reached a squabbling

stage, Crowe said to the court: "If you hear evidence as to insanity and then sentence these men to life imprisonment and their attorneys appeal to the supreme court I will confess error."

"I don't care what you gentlemen do with this case when I get through with it," retorted the judge.

During the argument Judge Caverly

declared that the defense will not be permitted to go into evidence of insanity and demanded to know from the state whether it had any authority to show that would prevent him from hearing evidence as to the state of mind or insanity.

The case was called. First, Bouquets were tendered the Duncan sisters.
Miss Rosetta Duncan told how she remonstrated with an officer at the station where her brother was being booked, and that while she was powdering her nose before going into the station, two officers grabbed her, twisted her arms, kicked her on the shins and hit her on the nose. A physician testified to the extent of the damage done to her nose and other witnesses supplied corroborating details.
The judge invited his audience, composed largely of housewives and college co-eds to return again today.

British

There is no reason to believe a world grain shortage is in sight. Webb said, and moreover it is impossible to forecast how long present high prices will be maintained. Harvesting of the 1924 crop in the northern hemisphere is not yet completed and final figures may cause a considerable change in the situation he believes.
The factor most influencing the outlook at present is the uncertainty of the Canadian crop to which may be attributed the recent rise in prices.
This situation undoubtedly has been aided as is usual in such circumstances by market speculation.
There seems no reason to believe at the present the world supply of wheat requirements during the coming season will be under short. Although prices for a time may continue at higher levels than during the corresponding period last year, there is no justification at the present time for suggesting a pending shortage or even a scarcity of wheat.
In the great world market at Liverpool there is a strong opinion that the present rise in wheat prices in the United States is not due to any attempt to corner world wheat supplies, as such a procedure would involve tremendous risk owing to the uncertainty of the Canadian yield and prospects for the coming crop in Australia and Argentina.
The rise, in the opinion of Liverpool merchants, is due principally to the operation of "bull cliques" in Chicago. Although prices have advanced to a certain extent on all exchanges because of unfavorable crop reports from Canada and parts of the United States. It is believed there is a widespread tendency to follow Chicago's lead and attempt to frighten buyers into paying enhanced prices.
On the other hand, Liverpool admits the bull factions have some justification in the increased consumption of wheat in Japan and China. Japan is using twice the amount of wheat it did before the war and the Chinese also are forsaking rice to a considerable extent.

New York

renominate Al Smith for a third term as Governor. Therefore, there is every reason to believe that when Mr. Davis returns from his island retreat in Maine the latter part of the week he will confer with the governor and endeavor to persuade him to announce his candidacy. Governor Smith has pledged himself to do everything possible for the success of the National ticket. He could best render this service by lending his enormous vote-getting strength to the ticket itself.

Eager for Hyman To Run
The Democrats are mindful of the Democratic plans here in the Empire state, and are prepared to meet them. It is the Republican idea to make the most of the breach between Governor Smith and William Randolph Hearst and to encourage the latter to put Mayor Hyman of New York City, in the race for the Governorship as an Independent Democrat or a Progressive Democrat, or whatever name may be chosen for his ticket. Mayor Hyman has said he would run if there was a demand for him. Mr. Hearst is expected to do all in his power to foster this demand.

The feud between Mr. Hearst and the Governor was never more bitter than at this time—the eve of a Presidential campaign. Mr. Hearst's newspapers also have attacked the availability of Mr. Davis as the Presidential nominee Mayor Hyman of course stands with Mr. Hearst in every way politically. There is no doubt if he were to take the field against Governor Smith he would win many thousands of Democratic votes in New York City and without a tremendous vote in the city the Democrats could not hope to carry the state.

The Democratic managers are virtually powerless to dissuade Mayor Hyman. His course unquestionably will be dictated by Mr. Hearst and the latter is not in a pacific mood at the moment. Despite the Hyman threat the chances are that Governor Smith will be re-nominated and will make one of his active, characteristic and effective campaigns.

G. O. P. May Run Roosevelt
The Republicans are casting about for a strong candidate for Governor. There still is talk of the availability of young Theodore Roosevelt, whose political career was thought to have suffered a setback to resign at the time his chief, Secretary of Navy Denby, felt it necessary to resign.

It is also admitted that the Russian supply cannot reach proper proportions for some years to come. Liverpool believes, however, that present rises in the wheat market will stop when unexpected supplies become available or when Japan and China, disgusted by high prices, go back to rice, corn and other cereals.

There are half a dozen other prominent Republicans in the state who appear to be willing to get struck by the gubernatorial lightning and who are anxious to get their chance in a Presidential year. So the effort of Colonel Roosevelt's friends to have him walk further in the footsteps of his father by gaining the executive mansion at Albany is beset with many obstacles.

The Republicans express complete confidence that they can hold New York in line for the National ticket even if Al Smith is renominated. They recall that more than 1,000,000 persons who voted for Smith in 1920 also voted for President Harding, and while they do not profess to say the percentage would be as large this year, they believe the voters of the state would demonstrate almost the same sort of independence in choosing between state and national tickets.

The political history of New York state would not seem to hold out much hope to the Democrats so far as the Presidency is concerned. The state has gone Democratic on the National ticket only once since 1892 and that was in 1912 when Woodrow Wilson won. The Roosevelt and Taft vote at that time, however, was vastly more than the Wilson count. New York state went for Cleveland in 1892 and the Democrats are saying that John W. Davis is enough of the Cleveland type to warrant the hope of carrying the state for him. In any event they are going to make a valiant effort in that direction and the Republicans are sufficiently alert to the situation to make extensive plans to meet the Democratic assault.

Cincinnati Physician Sued
By Partner For Fee Division

The following from last night's Cincinnati Times-Star, is of local interest because Dr. Mithoefer is well known here and has at various times cared for a number of local patients:
"Dr. Jacques Mallinck, formerly a physician of Paris, France, sued Dr. William Mithoefer, 2115 Alpine place, Cincinnati, in the Common Pleas court Tuesday for an accounting of fees since March, 1923.
"Dr. Mallinck alleges that Dr. Mithoefer made an agreement with him where under Mallinck, who was then an eye, ear and nose specialist of Paris, and a facial plastic surgeon, came to Cincinnati to enter into partnership with Dr. Mithoefer. Dr. Mithoefer, the petition declares, was to give him a fair share of their profits. The minimum was to be $5,000 a year.
"Dr. Mallinck says he brought his family to Cincinnati. During the time he worked with Dr. Mithoefer, he alleges, the Cincinnati doctor collected $25,000 from patients within one year. During this time, Dr. Mallinck says he received only $8,000. When he asked for a settlement, he alleges, Dr. Mithoefer said he would settle with him, but failed to do so. Later Dr. Mithoefer, the French surgeon alleges, promised him a minimum of not less than $1,000 a month. He has not been paid that amount, Dr. Mallinck alleges. Attorneys Black and Burtner represent Mallinck."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning her, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Is there anything a woman can do to make her husband more kind to his children? My husband seems to have a pick on the children and the minute he comes home, he begins on them. I do not want to interfere, as he gets so angry.

—WORRIED WOMAN.
The only thing that I know of is to keep the youngsters out of sight when your husband comes home from work. He is probably tired, from his day's work (and no man's day is as long as a woman's) and that makes him cross. Although if he is perpetually cross he surely is not well.

Dear Miss Wise—Please publish a recipe for Apple Dumplings; also, for Cucumber Cream for the face.

—READER.
Apple Dumplings—Prepare a dough as for pies. Roll out, cut in squares and in the center of each, lay a tart apple, cored, pared and quartered. Sprinkle with sugar and a dash of cinnamon. Close the corners of the dough, pinching together to hold. Lay in buttered baking dish with jelly and sugar. When oil dumplings are edges down. When oil dumplings are edges down, pour 1/2 cups of water around them, three-quarters of a cup sugar and a dash of butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon or nutmeg. Bake in quick oven until brown. The water and sugar will make a sauce with which they may be served.
Cucumber Cream—This has whitening qualities for the skin. Take three tablespoons cucumber juice pressed from the fresh fruit. Put in a bottle with part of one-half pint of elder flower water, and 2 table-spoons cologne. Shake and add drop by drop, one-half ounce simple tincture of benzoin. Shake frequently. Add the remainder of the one half pint of elder flower water and it is ready for use. If there is much despotism from the benzoin, it may be strained through muslin. This will keep a year. The muslin in the cucumber juice, makes a natural face bleach.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a widow with two children and have to work away from home. Do you know of any middle-aged woman who could take care of them and do a little housework? It would give her a good home and help her to make a little money each week, too.

—A. B.
I have the name and address of this woman, if these interested will call me for her address.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please tell me if a girl can sue a man for breach of promise at any age, and does it make any difference if she has been married. How much does it cost to take a case through the law?

—A DAILY READER.
You have to be twenty-one years of age, and it will cost a good deal. Why do you want to sue for breach of promise? If he doesn't care for you, you should think yourself lucky that you aren't tied to him.

Dear Dolly—I am bothered with roaches and have tried everything. I can hear of to get rid of them. Can you please tell me what to use to get rid of them? Please give me a recipe for blackberry wine.

—THANK YOU.
There is a roach paste that you can get at a drug store, made up principally of a phosphorescent substance. This may be spread on bits of bread and placed around in places where the children won't be able to reach them. Ask the druggist for it. In getting rid of roaches, you must be careful to keep everything clean, keep all foods out of the way, in jars with lids or in the refrigerator. Scraps of food are bound to attract them. I can't give you a recipe for wine.

John Ainsley Master Thief

THE WHITE EAGLE'S JUSTICE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

John Ainsley, a man of education and breeding, becomes a master crook—preying upon other thieves. In arranging with a "fence" to dispose of a box of jewels which he stole from the White Eagle, a crook, Ainsley is overheard by Swede Thomassen, a murderer in hiding.

Thomassen comes to Ainsley's apartment and demands half of the jewels. He makes himself completely at home in Ainsley's apartment and waits for the money. Ainsley telephones the White Eagle, telling him that a partner will be robbing the White Eagle at 9 o'clock in his apartment. Then he tries to hold Thomassen in his apartment until the White Eagle arrives.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

And Thomassen was shrewd enough to realize that any attack upon me would be better deferred until just as he was leaving. My servant, despite my instructions to her, might come to the apartment. Electric-light inspectors, the janitor—some one like this might call, and if I were not present to receive him, embarrassment might arise for the hiding murderer.

I had persuaded him that he should stay here until ten o'clock, so I felt fairly confident that he would make no attack upon me until shortly before that hour. And the White Eagle was due at nine.

We dined, the loathsome Thomassen and myself, off rinds that I prepared. And at a quarter to nine we had finished and were smoking after-dinner cigars in my bedroom. I had advised sitting in here, because it was the most secluded room in the apartment. And Thomassen, as the hour for his departure approached, began to yield to the strain of the situation. A murderer contemplating another murder, I was certain that he intended to kill me and take all the Anderson jewels. It did not seem absurd to him that one room should be less conspicuous than another. It was the farthest from the entrance door, and anything said or done was less likely to be heard in my bedroom. Indeed, he thought that I was playing into his hands.

At just before nine o'clock I started an argument. I said that he had taken the more valuable of the jewels and that we ought to divide them again. From his pockets he produced his share. He was glad for the dispute. He wanted to work himself up, cold-blooded though he was, to a point where my murder would seem more justifiable. Even

"It is too long a story, my dear Doc," I answered.

"Nevertheless, one day you shall tell it to me," he threatened.

From the doorway I laughed at him. "Perhaps, Monsieur le Duc. Meanwhile—two minutes. And read tomorrow's papers; perhaps then you will understand."

Then I went through my living-room, through the front door, and took the stairs three at a time. Outside, I hailed a taxi. As we drove into the park, I saw the White Eagle and Lotter emerge from the building. But there was no other taxi. They could escape, but they could not outwit me—for both of which facts I was extremely glad, for it had not been my plan to jeopardize the White Eagle.

I had merely intended to see that justice was done to Thomassen. The promise exacted from me prevented me from executing that justice with my own hand. And I cannot explain the obvious reasons why I could not call in the police.

How had I known that I would not be the victim of the White Eagle's rage? I had not known. I had taken deliberately the chance that I, too, would be killed. Why? Have I not said that when I surrendered honestly I came to honor? Could I commit a heinous crime to escape the justice of the law? Had I expected to regain the Anderson jewels, once the White Eagle had his eyes upon them?

In answer to that I can only say that I had prepared myself to die in the defense. For the money that they represented meant rehabilitation, the abandonment of this life. And I was still young enough to think that miracles do sometimes happen.

Of course, Thomassen's body would inevitably be found in my apartment. The police would seek for me. Suspicion might fall upon me. I had no money. I had no way of escape. I realized that matters would not be as easy as they would have been had not Thomassen come to blackmail me. Nevertheless I thought that they would be easy enough.

I was a fool. But then, I was a thief. And a thief is a fool. But I did not look at future difficulties then. I was considering if the White Eagle, reading Thomassen's identity in the morning papers, would appreciate the fact that I had deliberately made him an instrument of justice. I thought that he would; the French are notable for their romantic imagination. The White Eagle, if he knew all the facts, would appreciate them, and retire me. Indeed, I admitted myself. I had tricked myself from a nasty situation with credit. Certainly! I consider that for execution of Thomassen—it was an execution—is the most highly commendable act of my life. I had kept my word to a murderer, but I had also kept faith with myself. My respected forbears might condemn my mode of life, but they would forgive me this chapter. For I had risked my own life rather than let Thomassen go free. I ask no praise for the things I do; but this time in the matter of Thomassen, you must withhold your censure. You who understand may forgive.

"From Ocean to Ocean"

571 DEPARTMENT STORES

OPERATING IN 40 STATES

THIS service-and-value-giving system of stores, conceded to be the "World's largest chain department store organization" and an institution of National import, serving more than a million homes from its 571 economy units, is soon to inaugurate an epoch of mercantile achievements in which every man, woman and child in this community will find much to interest them.

Announcement of the opening date of the new local J. C. Penney Company Store will be made in a few days. Then the enjoyment, the benefits, the savings, the lasting satisfaction others have been experiencing in their daily lives will also be yours to experience. Watch for further announcements!

Time—the Great Maturist

An acorn does not grow into a great, strong, healthy oak tree in a day. The J. C. Penney Company did not become an institution of National importance overnight. Like the growth of the tree, it developed by the process of time, each year becoming stronger with new branches reaching out in every direction. Starting with one small store in Wyoming in 1902, branch stores continued to appear year after year until today—twenty-two years later—there are 571 branches extending their influence and serving the people of 40 States. Of this number 96 Department Stores are to be the product of this year, many of which have already matured. Mr. J. C. Penney, still active in the affairs of the Company, built better than he knew when in 1902 he laid the foundation on which eventually was to rest this Nation-wide institution.

It's Not What You Pay That Counts

Human nature is pretty much the same wherever you meet it. It is natural that in buying your personal and home needs you should seek the highest possible value for the price you pay. This should apply whether your expenditures are limited or unlimited. After all, it is not what you pay that counts—even though the price be small—but what you get for what you pay. It is not large profits that concern us, but the establishing of a safe and sound foundation for a business here that will be lasting. The enormous purchasing power created by our merchandise requirements for 571 Department Stores makes possible the giving of the unmatched values we offer throughout the year.

"For over a year," said Mr. Boyd, "it was all I could do to keep going. My stomach gave me lots of trouble and I tried taking all kinds of medicine to do it, but could not get any relief until I started taking this Pepsogen. ### Klan

The hostilities which broke out last night when 300 Klansmen, friends and spectators assembled in a field near here which they had rented, only to be dispersed by a crowd of between 200 and 300 men, came as a culmination of a long feeling for some time.

While the fighting was beginning here a similar outbreak occurred in Spencer, seven miles away when a crowd was showered with stones, cars carrying persons away from a Klan Klan meeting there. State police dispersed the crowd and arrested five men. At Westminster near here a third meeting was held, but without disorders.

Two clashes took place here during the night between the crowd within the field and those outside. Rocks were thrown and a shotgun loaded with rock fired.

One man's back was broken when he attempted to run the gauntlet of the crowd outside in an automobile.

As the night wore on, the police handicapped by their lack of numbers, the scattered position of the combatants and the darkness, were unable to keep the road clear.

When dawn broke 150 men still remained in the road outside the field and a similar number of men were within the field. But with the coming of morning the crowd in the roadway gradually broke up.

Police reinforcements dispersed the remainder and those who had been forced to remain within the enclosed field were enabled to leave.

To small local police force was unable to cope with the situation, when shortly after 8 o'clock last night trouble began between the crowd within the field and those in the road outside. A few guards had been posted along the low stone wall that ran between the field and road.

When the crowd outside the field attempted to enter the field, help was summoned from the state police at Hellen, Oxford, Brookfield and Lancaster. But the dozen officers were unable to handle the situation.

When at 10 o'clock the first real clash occurred at the entrance to the field and rocks were thrown and the crowd again withdrew.

The second most serious clash occurred at about 12:30 a. m. when a crowd rushed for the opening into the field brought general fighting in which stones and clubs were used. A shot was fired into the crowd.

Which Peter Soria who was riding on the running board of an ambulance which had been summoned and which was carrying an injured man from the field was struck on the head by a piece of rock.

A man who termed himself a Klansman but who declined to divulge his name told newspaper men, who made their way through the besiegers' ranks under the protection of police that only a small minority of the crowd within the field were Klansmen. The remainder he said were interested listeners at a meeting called for the purpose of telling of the aims and purposes of the Klan. No ceremonial was held, he said.

The field he said was rented and remained within the rented land. He said no Klansmen had carried guns. State police said that no action was taken to discover the person who shot the gun or to prosecute under a formal complaint should be made.

British Protest

The question of gun elevation has been discussed for nearly two years. The controversy first started when the navy department secured an appropriation from congress some time ago to elevate American guns. The argument used by the navy was that such elevation was necessary to bring the American navy up to the fighting strength of the British navy.

Before the money could be expended, however, Great Britain made representations which denied the contention that elevation of guns on British battleships had been increased since the Washington conference.

This work had been done before the conference the British claimed. At the instance of Secretary of State Hughes the late President Harding then held up the appropriation for this work. The question again came to the fore at the last session of congress but authorization for the expenditure of money to carry out elevation changes failed of passage.

In the absence of any comment by state department officials it is not yet clear what prompted Great Britain to make the representations at this time, since the question here for the moment seems to be dead. It was thought probable, however, that the protest was sent to this country because of the simultaneous representations Great Britain has made to Japan since the elevation of guns.

The reason for announcement of the protest in the British House of Commons is believed here to be that the MacDonald government was being pressed to take some action in this connection.

Whether a reply by this government has yet been made, state department officials absolutely declined to say, but it is not expected that an answer will be long delayed, of the reply has not already been sent.

The navy department is seeking appropriations for gun elevation, contending that such a step would not be a violation of the Washington treaty.

State Loses

"You like," shouted Benjamin Bachrach, one of the defense attorneys.

Assistant States Attorney Marshall, indictment expert, who is handling the medical phase for the state, presented the argument on the admissibility of the alienists' testimony.

Marshall charged the defense was trying to open a psychopathic hospital in court.

"Here is the point I want to make clear," Judge Caverly said. "If a man is legally sane and in possession of his normal faculties, does not the court in a judicial inquiry have a right to investigate the defendant's state of mind?"

"Absolutely not," State's Attorney Crowe replied.

"All right," Judge Caverly said. "You will have to show me."

"Partial insanity is a mental disease," Marshall replied. "Depravity and all other emotions along that line are indications of diseased mentality. After these boys plead guilty they are legally sane, what business have doctors and alienists to come into the temple of justice with their mental theories?"

"These boys admit their guilt and that is the only thing that the court has to consider," chief defense counsel, interjected the following comment:

"If the prisoners have a mental difficulty or a low degree of responsibility, we have a right to show it."

Then the defense produced the law showing that the court is empowered to order testimony of alienists to determine whether the prisoners are laboring under mental difficulties.

Leopold and Loeb showed intense interest in the morning's proceedings. They leaned forward in their chairs and listened as the arguments went back and forth between the attorneys and the judge.

Jacob Franks, father of the victim, was represented in the court by his personal attorney, Samuel Etelson, who prompted part of the prosecution argument. Jacob Franks has taken an oath that the slayers of his son must not be permitted to get off with anything less than the extreme penalty and he is devoting himself to the fight to prevent jailing of the defendants.

Nathan Leopold, senior, father of one of the youthful slayers, hunched forward in his chair, hanging to every word of the argument.

Assistant state's Attorney Marshall continued his argument against the admissibility of the defense testimony.

Leopold, a student of law, listened intently to Marshall's citation of the various authorities, cluttered with the defense, frequently apparently pointing out points favorable to the defense.

Court was recessed at 12:20 until 2 o'clock when the defense will continue presentation of argument for the admitting of testimony.

Court reconvened at 2:07 this afternoon.

Justice Caverly, after the recess, explained to the prosecution why he felt the defense should be permitted to allow introduction of medical testimony. Judge Caverly said he had permitted some eighty state witnesses to appear and testify. Their testimony showed "aggravated murder," he said. He cited legal authority in a similar case where it is clearly set forth that the judge should hear evidence showing "the aggravation and mitigation" of the defense.

Crowe, however, argued that the defense cannot put forward any mental condition of the boys.

Marshall charged the defense was trying to open a psychopathic hospital in court.

Forest Fires Raging; Cause Heavy Damage

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., July 30.—(By the United Press)—One man was killed, several injured and vast additional damage done during the last 24 hours by forest fires which now are burning in two counties of the state. Carl Roel, foreman of a paper mill at Floriston, was fatally injured, while fighting fire in Truckee River canyon.

Five fires are sweeping Siskiyou county, four of them beyond control.

Fire fighting forces were handicapped because of lack of men and supplies. Additional men were rushed into the San Jacinto Mountains, near Riverside, to help check a fire that is spreading along the San Jacinto River toward the Hemet Dam.

Mariposa, Plumas, Placer, Sierra, Shasta, Eldorado and Santa Barbara counties reported fires still burning.

Negroes, In Court Room Heavily Guarded, Plead Guilty

MOBILE CITY, ILL., July 30.—(By the United Press)—In a court room guarded by 100 armed special deputies, Hess Connors and Fred Hale, Cairo negroes, today pleaded guilty to the murder of Daisy Wilson, 18-year-old white girl slain defending her father's store at Villa Ridge, from robbery.

At the same time the Pulaski grand jury here returned indictments against five unnamed men for participating in the mob which tried to lynch two Memphis negroes held as suspects in the murder.

Requests of Sheriff I. N. Hudson, for state troops to guard the court room were refused by Governor Small.

Kauffman, Candidate For State Auditor, Is a Certified Public Accountant

COLUMBUS, O., July 30.—The candidacy of J. H. Kauffman for the Democratic nomination for the office of auditor of state presents some outstanding features. This is the first time in this state that a certified public accountant has run for state auditor.

Mr. Kauffman is recognized among accountants as an authority on governmental accounting. That he stands well in his profession is evidenced by the fact that he is a member of the American Institute of Accountants, former president of the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants and former secretary of the State Board of accountancy. The latter is the board which examines persons seeking the state certificate of Certified Public Accountant.

Mr. Kauffman's study of governmental accounting problems have extended over a period of years. Much of his knowledge of that subject was gained by actual first-hand experience. He has for several years advocated and worked for "Accountancy in Government."

In explanation of that slogan Mr. Kauffman says: "Briefly, it is a system which comprehends the scientific production and presentation of facts concerning all of the financial transactions and relations of the state necessary to an understanding of the state's business. When I say 'scientific' I do not mean complicated but simple. It would not be scientific if it were complicated."

When one reflects that the state of Ohio last year disbursed $30,470,738.24 for the operation of its three governmental branches, the construction and maintenance of highways and public structures and manifold other state activities it can be readily realized that the state needs more than a "cash account." It needs a modern accounting system as much, if not more, than does private business.

Mr. Kauffman is a Democrat and is seeking the nomination as such.

"Pit-a-Pat, Pit-a-Pat" The Way We Go, Kiddies Chirp After Getting Free Tickets

The already worn steps in the Times office creaked under the steady procession of little feet to day as the boys and girls who had submitted drawings of Rin-Tin-Tin, the famous police dog, called to claim their tickets which will admit them free to a performance of "Where the North Begins" in which the wonder-dog is now playing at the Esplanade.

Thirteen little girls looked shyly around the corner of the door into the news-room and asked "Where do we get our tickets?" Freckle-faced little boys dashed barefooted up the steps to make sure of their precious bits of pasteboard. One young weehin arrived all alone, driving in state in a well worn specimen of the most popular brand of car. Manager George L. Law is giving tickets, not only to the fifteen boys and girls whose drawings were selected as best, but to every boy and girl who entered the contest.

Claims He Threw Body Of Ohio Girl Into River

NEW YORK, July 30.—(United Press)—Charles Flynn, West Bridge-water, Penn., railway clerk, has confessed to Brooklyn police he killed Miss Marie Richards, of Cincinnati, Ohio, about March 14, 1922, by hitting her on the head with an iron bar.

Flynn said he threw the body in the Ohio river near Steubenville.

The confession according to police, was voluntary.

Flynn was held by Magistrate Short without bail for further hearing Monday. Detective Jolly of Brooklyn headquarters swore to an affidavit charging the man with suspicion of murder.

The railway clerk went to Brooklyn headquarters yesterday, it was said, and entered his confession.

Detectives immediately communicated with authorities at Columbus and Steubenville in an endeavor to obtain further information. Flynn said he was not positive the woman was dead and suggested she might have been rescued from the river and revived.

He made advances to her and when she resisted, hit her on the head with an iron bar and threw her in the river. He then took a train to East Liverpool and thence to West Bridge-water, and thence to New York.

Harper Defends Proposed Brick Plant Purchase

COLUMBUS, O., July 30.—(United Press)—John Harper, state welfare director, declared that his proposal to purchase the Roseville brick plant for $35,000 was a "very good deal for the state," in a letter which he sent today to State Auditor Tracy.

The sale is held up pending the outcome in injunction proceedings started by a taxpayer.

In his letter to Tracy, Harper declares that since he agreed to buy the brick plant for $35,000, two brick plant contractors have congratulated him on making a good bargain for the state; that for $10,000 the plant can be put in shape to furnish work for many convicts, and that engineers say there are large shale deposits on the site of the plant.

(By C. J. SAVAGE)
RACELAND, July 30.—Equaling the track record of three-quarters of a mile in 1:12.2-5, and defeating Ten-Lee, which set the original mark, Alice Blue Gown, J. O. H. G. Keene's four-year-old gray daughter of Luke McLuke-Garcon, won the Consolation Handicap, the main attraction of Tuesday's program at Raceland. Only three made the contest in this affair. Valler Light being the other one, and he was beaten off.

Jockey Danny McAuliffe rode Alice Blue Gown and he nursed her along until just the right time. As the trio swung into the turn off the back stretch, McAuliffe shook his mount up a bit and she responded nobly. It did not take her long to get to the front, and once on top she was never in danger. When she assumed command Valley Light, the early pace-maker, dropped out of it completely, while Ten-Lee moved up with a rush. Her efforts were of no avail, however, as the winner had too much stamina left for her.

The finish found Alice Blue Gown only one-half a length in front of Ten-Lee, but this was because her rider was easing her up, and she could have made the margin much greater had McAuliffe desired. This marked the first start of the meeting for the Luke McLuke Gilly, and she was held at odds of 11 to 20, in preparation for this race she worked five-eighths of a mile in 39.4-5.

Following the vast gathering of Monday, Tuesday's attendance was naturally somewhat smaller by comparison, but at that it was above the average for an off-day, and it included many first-time visitors who came from various points to remain for the windup on Saturday. Real summerlike weather again was in order in the first two races, eleven accepting the issue in each of them.

After Alice Blue Gown won the feature, Lucknow, her brother, grabbed off the sixth race in easy style from Parody and Louanna. Lucknow was held at long odds. He was given a perfect ride by Jockey George Williams.

The "hitter brigade" broke loose with a vengeance Tuesday, and Williams Brothers were the chief sufferers. Asaph was claimed from Mrs. Williams firm by J. A. Parsons for $1,300, while Mrs. G. W. Church took Star Girl from them for $2,200. Parsons got in the twilight again when he claimed Attorney, winner of the seventh race, from Mrs. R. McGurvey for $1,300.

For a change the form players were worsted Tuesday as only two choices won—San Silk and Alice Blue Gown. The talent sustained its two worst blows of the season to date when Asaph, at odds of 9 to 20, and Uncle Jay, at 11 to 20, failed in the third and fourth races respectively.

Jockeys Danny McAuliffe and F. Sharpe again riding honors with a pair of winners apiece.
 After finishing second with Ten-Lee in the fifth race, Jockey Ivan Parke left by motor with Bobby Bower for Saratoga Springs, N. Y., to report to the main division of the Harry Payne Whitney stable. He rode brilliantly during his stay here and except for showing one brief indisposition as the result of his recent operation for appendicitis, his physical condition was as good as ever.

Eleven made the contest in the first two races which fell to Rich Buck and San Silk, respectively. Neither flash was close. Odd Setz triumphed over Asaph in the third, but she was lucky as she fared last year.

after racing to the front and Asaph was wearing her down with every stride. Bankrupt added another purse to the account of Harry Payne Whitney in the fourth number. The final race fell to Attorney in easy fashion over a small field.
 John J. Trotter today reported the loss of a filly foal by War Cloud-Fern Handley, at Lexington. This was the second foal of Fern Handley in her day a useful race mare.
 Julius G. Reeder, assistant racing secretary was back on the job today after spending two days in Cleveland in quest of horses for the coming Homington (V. Va.) meeting, of which he will be manager. He said that his visit to Maple Heights met with marked success.

Reds Recall Young Cuban

Pitcher Dilut, the young Cuban hurler, who was with the Reds early in the season and sent to the Florida State League for further experience, has been recalled by Manager Henrich and he will join the Queen City tribe in the east.
 Dilut went like a house on fire while on the Florida circuit, registering eight victories against one defeat for Joe. Tinker's Orlando aggregation and his brilliant work on the hill is what earned him another chance on the main line. Dilut promises to develop into a crack pitcher and follow in the footsteps of his distinguished countryman, Adolph Lague, National League pitching ace, last but she was lucky as she fared last year.

FARMERS HEAR NOVEL PLAN TO SELL PRODUCTS
COLUMBUS, July 30.—Outline of a plan whereby cooperative organizations for the sale of farm products would be set up in each county of the state, was given today to representatives of local farm bureaus in mid-summer conference here.

Under the plan, all farm products of each county would be sold through the cooperative organization, which would eventually establish store houses where these products would be kept in time of depressed markets.

The farmer would be paid half the market price for his product upon delivery to the cooperative company. Upon its sale, or at stated periods throughout the year, he would receive the balance, less an amount necessary to care for overhead expenses of the cooperative.

The plan was conceived by Murray D. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, and E. C. Anstett, head of the investigation service of the federal bureau.

GOV. BRYAN HAS READ HIMSELF OUT OF PARTY.
ARMY MAN SAYS

OMAHA, NEB., July 30.—Governor Bryan, vice-presidential nominee has read himself out of the Democratic party by opposing full observance of defense day, General George B. Duncan, commanding the Seventh Corps area of the army said here today.

Gen. Duncan said the Democratic national platform called for adequate army and navy protection and conscription of industry in case of war.
 "Gov. Bryan's stand opposing the least of industrial strength on national defense day," Gen. Duncan said "is opposite to the view taken by his party. By his action he has read himself out of the party."

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska, "has drawn rather extraordinary inferences from what seems to be a perfectly clear document" the war department declared today in a statement answering the governor's criticism of the "defense day" program for September 12.

Governor Bryan's statement that he does not favor any plan contemplating mobilization of the civil or industrial resources of the country or anything else that savors of national holiday devoted to preparation for war drew the reply that such "inferences" are a source of surprise to the war department.

The statement asserted that the commanding officer of the seventh corps area on May 31, reported that Governor Bryan had expressed his desire to "cooperate with the department to the fullest extent."

President Coolidge earlier in the day made known that he probably would not reply to Governor Bryan. It was declared at the White House that the President considered his recent criticism of those condemning the government's plans for defense day as "unfair" as sufficiently outlining his views. These were stated comprehensively in a letter to Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the national council for prevention of war last Saturday.

WOMAN ACCUSED IN TARRING CASE, GIVES BAIL

FREDERICK, MD., July 30.—Mrs. Mary Shauk, who with eight men was arrested several days ago charged with tarring and feathering Miss Dorothy Grandon, of Martinsburg, W. Va., last Tuesday night, secured bail today and was released pending action of the September grand jury.
 Miss Grandon is still held in custody in default of $500 bond as a state witness.

Wage Cut of 10 To 25 Per Cent

STONEY, N. S., July 30.—A wage reduction of from 10 to 25 per cent was announced today by the British Empire Steel Corporation. The cut affects all employees, including President Roy M. Wotvine.

FARMERS' BODY REFUSES TO BACK BIG MERGER
DES MOINES, Ia., July 30.—Refusal of the executive committee of the national farmers grain dealers association to endorse the proposed grain marketing company of Chicago unless farmers elevator companies hold the stock, followed an all day session of the committee here yesterday.

John W. Gustafson, president of the association in commenting upon the decision of the committee said its action was due to a disinclination on the part of the farmers elevator representatives to permit "the Chicago grain men to tell the farmer what to do." The association consists of about 5,000 grain elevators in the central west.

LIGHTNING KNOCKED HER UMBRELLA FROM HAND
TOLEDO, O., July 30.—Knocking an umbrella out of hands of a woman was one of the pranks played by lightning here today.

Mrs. William Wolkins, was entering her home when a bolt struck her umbrella, tearing it from her hands. A number of ribs in the umbrella were melted, but Mrs. Wolkins hands were not burned.

U. S. WHEAT EXPORTS SHOW SHARP DECLINE
WASHINGTON, July 30.—The United States which fell to third place last year as a wheat and flour exporting nation may slip even further this year.

Officials of the department of agriculture today predicted that the country's total export for 1924-25 will not exceed 100,000,000 bushels and it may be as little as 50,000,000 bushels.

The first figure would be a decrease of approximately 23,000,000 bushels as compared to the 1923-24 export of 123,472,333 bushels.

The export for 1922-23 was 202,159,030.
 Despite this condition in the export trade, however, the American market continues to rise, but guided by local and world crop condition rather than possibilities of increased sales abroad.

POLICE EXPECT TO CLEAR MURDER MYSTERY

CINCINNATI, O., July 30.—Developments of an important nature are expected to materialize with the arrest of an Italian and a negro in connection with the murder of Conrad Berhalter, 31 year old tailor, and wounding of his 27 year old son in law, George W. Mercer, salesman, both of Newport, Ky.

Berhalter was found last Sunday morning, his head crushed with a three foot pipe which lay near his body. Mercer sustained a fractured skull when struck on the head by the same implement. Near the scene, the police uncovered part of a baseball bat which they consider pertinent evidence.

YOUTH IS HELD FOR DEATH OF FATHER

CLEVELAND, July 30.—A charge of murder was placed against a 15 year old boy today after the death in a hospital of his father, George Whitson, 60, whom the son, police say, shot Monday during a quarrel. The boy, 101 police his father had beaten his mother.

SENATOR "MAG" JOHNSON MINUS PANTS, DELAYS

INTERVIEW WITH SCRIBES
DAYTON, O., July 30.—Senator Magnus Johnson, Minnesota, was unable to permit reporters an interview here today because the only pair of trousers he had with him were at a tailor shop being pressed. He kept the newspapermen waiting almost an hour.

Senator Johnson is scheduled to speak at the Miami Valley Chautauqua this afternoon. He declared himself to be a firm believer of the policies of Senator Robert La Follette, the third party presidential selection.

Will Bowlers Have Fun at Outing Tomorrow? Well, Just Take a Peep at Their Program

All that is needed to make the Masonic Bowling League outing to be held at Camp Pepperbox, one mile east of Sciotoville, tomorrow, Thursday afternoon, a decided success, is a favorable break in the weather, and this seems to be assured, running the risk of enlivening the achievements of Dave Cheatwood along prophetic lines.

The committee in charge of the affair, of which Ed V. Leach is chairman, has worked industriously planning for a large number of contests that will call forth the best efforts of the contestants. It should be borne in mind that every man who ever participated in the league is eligible to attend.

This includes the old timers—members of the Ivory Knobs, Fred Tynes, Dr. Perry Winkler Young, Orville Sprague, who have given up the infirmities, and Cassie Chadwick Hoff, Dr. Franklin Freestone Spencer, et al. In fact every player, past or present, subs too, are invited. It is going to be an outing worth while and W. A. Pepper, who has so graciously donated his camp as a place to hold the outing, is insistent there be a 100 per cent attendance.

The plan is for the members to assemble at Tracy Park at two o'clock in the afternoon, from which point leave will be taken at 2:30. The afternoon is so full of stunts that it will be necessary to start the program at 3 o'clock. GREAT MEN

In his still well-known calendar of the world's great men, from the dawn of history down to about 1820, Auguste Comte included only 359 names. And to get this number he included such tiny stars as the American novelist, Fenimore Cooper, the English dramatist, Thomas Otway, and the Italian composer, Donizette. That many men who might be called great are not recognized is one conclusion that may be drawn from this. Doubtless this is true today. The man who invented the typewriter has affected the lives of millions. Judged by the benefits he has conferred this inventor might well be called great. But how many know that the typewriter was devised by Christopher Lathan Sholes, a collector of customs at Milwaukee, in 1867?

HE'S THE RIGHT SORT

Is John W. Davis a democratic Democrat? He is. Proof. As all know he was ambassador to the Court of St. James. As such he had to attend many functions given by English monarchs. Court rules provide that the guests hidden to these functions shall wear certain fixed costumes, the regulation being silk hose, knee breeches and a coat something like the wings of a tumble bug. It is expected, however, that foreign ministers may wear the uniforms of their own royalty or service. John W. Davis refused to wear the regulation clothes and his country not being dilittante enough to have an official costume, he appeared in such clothes, a black claw-hammer, as any American gentleman would wear when he wants to put on a bit of "dog."

NOT FOOLING THE PEOPLE

WITH its false pretence of not having anything to do with the league of nations, the Coolidge administration is not fooling anyone by sending "an observer in an unofficial capacity" to the European conference of state ministers. Secretary Hughes finds it opportune to be there, so does Secretary Mellon and Lamont of the House of Morgan. Maneuvering through the American ambassador to France Hughes can whisper into the conference, Mellon, being a banker himself, can drop remarks to the bankers, through Lamont and thus the American finger in the pie keeps things stirring towards a certain direction. By-the-way, how the gaiety of nations would be accelerated if Colonel George Harvey had not, for some unaccountable reason, taken abrupt leave of absence from the Court of St. James. George has a hair trigger tongue that needs just such grave situations to set it off. It is never known to fail and to create havoc.

TOGETHER SHOULD BE EFFECTIVE

THE Ashland Business Men's Association conjointly with the bankers of the city, is seeking co-operation of similar interests in adjoining cities to circumscribe the operations of the "cold cheek" artists in this section. They suggest a precaution and a counter irritant so to speak, the exercise of greater caution in accepting checks from and crediting strangers and stern prosecution. There is a suggestion and a program that should receive both hearty endorsement and earnest support. Forgers have been unusually active along the river for several years. Probably, because this section has been unusually active in an industrial way and the influx of new comers has been heavy.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

Certainly, no tradesman or banker would suffer often through these frauds, if he were duly cautious, but having been once victimized his first thought and his sole effort should be set to catching the criminal and seeing he is punished. It has seemed to us that the latter preventive is not firmly resorted to. Generally the consuming desire of the victim is to get his money back and he is too frequently quite willing to compound with the forger to that end.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 30.—It has been a year ago since a great and lasting grief came to our little household. It was the rustling of the wings of death. Junior, a faithful eight-year-old, Boston dog, was struck down and killed by an automobile while crossing Fifth Avenue. Junior was a thoroughbred in life, just as he was in death and the memory of him brings freshets of tears. His tiny little mound in Hartsdale is marked with a marble slab reading: "Junior—Faithful to the End." Not once in his remarkable life did he betray a trust reposed in him. He was a dog of the magazine and newspaper articles—more than 100 stray and friendless dogs have found cheerful homes. So we who loved him are comforted by the fact he did not die in vain. The great soul of him goes marching on. I wonder if people generally realize what a big part dogs play in the lives of mankind. In the past few weeks I have received letters of two remarkable instances of the influence of the love and loyal homage of a dog.

One is from a prisoner in a Jersey prison. He made a false step and is paying the price. Four weeks after his incarceration he received word that his dog waited patiently for him at the gate of his home—refusing to leave, finally refusing to eat and then he died. "When my time is up here," he writes, "I am going to pay the debt I owe that dog. I was forsaken by everyone save him. No matter what my inclinations are, and they are not the best because I am embittered, the faith that dog had in me will keep me straight."

The other is from a woman who nightly patrolled the Broadway paves, her lips trailing the suggest-ive question, "I am back in a little town in Wisconsin," she wrote. "A dog sent me here to reshape a wasted life. He taught me something the world did not—humility."

Hugh Fullerton, the sport writer, sent a newspaper the following announcement: "Mr. and Mrs. Hugh

Doc Koko's KOLUM

The Planting
Sweet winds, will you wait for its branches to grow?
O friendliest snow,
Will you cover its boughs from the cold
When my seedling is old?

I have planted a priest for the sky;
A temple for birds passing by;
A net to entangle the moon;
A green shelter at noon.
I have taken a spade
And a naked brown shoot and have made
A miracle. Now the glory is Thine,
O God of the dew and the air!
But the wonder is mine—
And mine is the prayer:
In far summers my eyes may not see,
Let green branches murmur of me.
I have planted a tree.
—Margaret Lee Ashley, In Contemporary Verse.

Slightly Off Color
Cannibal Walter: "So you think this hash doesn't taste right, my lord?"
Cannibal Chief: "It certainly doesn't. It tastes as if you had a commercial traveler mixed in with a missionary."

Barred Mistakes
Dr. Killett: "I had a great many more patients this time last year than I have now. I wonder where they've all gone."
His Wife: "We can only hope for the best, John."
